FREE LAW PROJECT

A 501(c)(3) non-profit focused on high-quality, open legal data that:

- Provides free access to primary legal materials, develops legal research tools, and supports academic research
- Offers data services and consulting to assist journalists, researchers, organizations, and the public in data gathering, customized research, and reports
- Advocates for updates to outmoded systems and increased data availability
- Sponsors the development of CourtListener.com and RECAP initiatives

COURTLISTENER

CourtListener s a free, fully searchable, legal research website containing millions of records from Federal and State courts. CourtListener features advanced search capabilities, alerts, APIs, and bulk data. Records include:

- Opinions
- PACER documents and cases
- Oral arguments
- Judge profiles

RECAP — Turning PACER Around Since 2009

An online archive and free Chrome and Firefox extension for PACER users to lower their PACER bills. PACER is the government-run public access system for every document filed in federal district and bankruptcy courts.